Duro-Last® Appoints Greg Hudson Vice President of Commercial Excellence

SAGINAW, Mich. — Duro-Last, a member of the Amrize family of brands and a leading manufacturer of custom-fabricated single-ply roofing systems, has appointed Greg Hudson as vice president of commercial excellence, strengthening leadership across its commercial operations and reinforcing the brand's commitment to sustainable growth.

In this role, Hudson will lead commercial strategy and market initiatives across all Duro-Last brands: EXCEPTIONAL® Metals, Protect-All® Flooring, Plastatech® and TIP-TOP® Screw Manufacturing. He will focus on improving coordination, enhancing customer experience and expanding opportunities in strategic markets, helping contractors and customers access more integrated, high-performing solutions.

Hudson brings more than 20 years of experience in the building design and construction industry, most recently serving in senior commercial leadership roles at Georgia-Pacific Gypsum. There, he led growth initiatives, strengthened market connections and collaborated with architects, contractors, consultants and industry organizations to deliver value-driven solutions.

"Greg combines deep industry knowledge with a collaborative approach that aligns perfectly with our culture," said Darren Schulz, president of Duro-Last. "His leadership will strengthen our contractor relationships, drive alignment across all Duro-Last brands and support our long-term growth strategy while advancing our continued commitment to innovation in commercial roofing solutions."

"I am honored to join Duro-Last, a company recognized for its contractor-first approach and commitment to quality," Hudson said. "I look forward to working with the team to strengthen market execution, support our partners and deliver solutions that make a meaningful difference for customers and the industry."

This appointment underscores Duro-Last's commitment to strengthening commercial leadership and aligning its full portfolio of brands to deliver innovative, high-performing solutions. With a continued focus on contractor partnerships and market-driven strategies, the company is positioned to advance efficiency, durability and long-term value for its customers and the commercial roofing industry.

About Duro-Last
